

SYSTEMS DESIGNER/SENIOR SYSTEMS INSTALLER

IT big thinkers wanted! Ready to take the next step in your career and design, plan and quality control server VOIP projects. Ready to be challenged each day to help improve client's use of IT?

Hiring Standard

The number one key to DenaliTEK's success is to exceed client expectations through superior customer service. DenaliTEK prides itself on excellent customer service and will win or lose depending on the success oriented customer service provided by its employees. An employee with DenaliTEK must remember that no level of technical excellence will make up for poor, non effective customer service. Effective customer service skills are a primary job requirement for employment at DenaliTEK.

Job Summary

The role of Advance Services System Designer/Senior System Installer is responsible for developing a solid communication with new and existing Client stakeholders, third party vendors and DenaliTEK internal personnel to define operational and technical specification requirements needed to timely design and install an efficient effective information technology solution.

Duties and Responsibilities

The primary duties of a System Designer/Senior System Installer are:

- Design an information technology solution to address operational efficiency, data storage and protection, energy efficiency, security, and financial investment payback and returns. Incorporation of best practices and system efficiency required.
- Plan a deployment which address stakeholder time driven operational requirements and integrates third party vendors and internal staff.
- Provide quality control and assessment of implemented system representing Customer's needs and perspective. Formal project management documentation required.

The primary responsibilities of a System Designer/Senior System Installer are:

- Engage key vendors to seek current proven and tested solutions which match DenaliTEK degree of risk management and clients' information technology purpose alignment.

- Provide pro active communications which drive project research and eventual implementation milestones. Effective communication and interaction with team, clients and the company required.
- Execute the job using highly defined work processes designed to reduce risk and improve DenaliTEK internal efficiencies. Appropriate risk escalation judgment required.
- Review and test the results of the project based on predefined quality standards and stated methods.

Qualification and Expectations

The following qualifications are required for this job position:

- Good understand of complex systems and networking
- Solid results focused background
- Terminal Servers, Firewall and VPN technology experience required.
- Past experience in implementing and maintaining corporate workstations, servers and network infrastructure. i.e. technical knowledge in Microsoft Small Business Server 2003/2008, Windows Server 2003/2008, Exchange Solutions and Cisco products required.
- Network security understanding a plus.
- Personal career development interest and technology change enthusiasm required.
- Solid verbal and written communication skills
- Strong analytic and problem solving skills preferably involving computer or telephony industries
- Associates, Bachelors, or Master degrees in relevant area recognized
- Occasional evening/weekend work essential. Ability to lift 50 lbs. required.

Success Definitions

Communications: Proactive, customer service focused attitudes will improve successful implementation and evaluation. Develop system requirement specifications, Site Survey and Analysis documents, Statement of Work and Project Design Plan, Scope change orders and Project Recap documents including technical, project management and client focused recommendations.

Accountability: Project management focused efforts to successful execute the project charter and identify and proactive design risk reducing solutions. Communication of opportunities for additional client work to appropriate team members is very important.

Deliverables and Timeliness: Projects delivered on time and within pre-established budgetary windows.

Please submit your application at www.denalitek.com. Your online application is essential if you want to be fairly evaluated. You may also attach your resume there, but all serious candidates are required to fully complete the online application.